Towards large-scale U.S. LNG exports to the EU's gas market: competitive pricing, infrastructure investments and technological innovation.

In the framework of the EU-US Energy Council, this forum is designed as a ministerial-level event to bring together U.S. and European decision-makers from government as well as companies in the LNG sector. A key objective is to encourage business contacts and promote the further uptake of competitively priced US LNG in the EU. American and European businesses are poised to invest in significant transatlantic liquefied natural gas (LNG) opportunities spanning the entire supply chain including new infrastructure for upstream development, liquefaction, re-gasification, and pipeline distribution.

This event is by invitation only.
