

📅 17 SETTEMBRE 2020 ORE 13.00

📍 WEBINAR

Another crisis of the open society? Historical perspectives on the politics of the Covid-19 pandemic

Webinar and debate organized by the Association for Political History and the Luiss School of Government, which offers historical perspectives on the politics of the Covid-19 pandemic, focusing on the limits and contradictions of direct democracy, transboundary cooperation, and emergency policy in pandemic times.

Discussants

Irène Herrmann Palmieri Professor of Transnational History of Switzerland, University of Geneva

Direct Democracy vs. Health Crises Management. A Swiss Contradiction? (1816-2020)

Beatrice de Graaf Professor of History of International Relations, Utrecht University

The (im)possibility of transboundary cooperation in pandemic times: a historical perspective

Richard Vinen Professor of History, King's College London

Covid and politics in Britain: a historical approach

Registration

GUIDA AL SITO

DISABILITÀ E DSA

SITEMAP

SERVIZI WEB

E-LEARNING

PRIVACY POLICY

STATISTICHE

FEEDBACK

DOVE SIAMO

BRAND IDENTITY

LUISS OPEN

CONTATTI

5X1000

CREDITS

Social Sciences Universities Network